

Arrival of the Hibernia.

The splendid steamer Hibernia, Capt. Judkins, arrived at her wharf at East Boston, Monday morning, 3rd inst. at 5 o'clock, making the passage in less than 13 days. She brings Liverpool files to the 20th ult., and London to the 19th.

IRELAND.

The debate in the House of Commons on the Irish Arms Bill, on the 16th, was one of the most animated that has taken place during the session; the policy of the present as compared with the late Government, was reviewed by the friends and opponents of each with more or less success, and a great deal of acrimony. Lord John Russell's speech, in particular, was unusually strong and pointed; it has received a large meed of praise from the party of which his lordship is the recognized leader.

Matters have come to a crisis no less rapid than critical; but hitherto, beyond sending large bodies of troops to subdue any outbreak that may occur, the Government has done nothing to arrest it. But it is clear from the minister's tone, that their patience is exhausted. A few days will probably witness the development of their policy.

An account of another great meeting in that country develops the bold, indeed the daring tone of defiance which the Irish leader now uses towards the British Government; in stronger colors than any previous one.

Mr. O'Connell declared, on Thursday, at the great meeting at Ennis, that the government were more disposed to conciliate than to coerce, and if they were prepared to sever the Church from the State in Ireland, he would meet them in 'excellent humor.' He stated that Peel and the conciliatory party in the Cabinet had prevailed. In London, however, the belief is quite the other way, and that the Duke of Wellington's recipe for quieting the Irish by force had found the greatest number of supporters in the Cabinet, leaving Peel and the moderate party in a minority. The language used by Lord Stanley and Sir James Graham, during Friday's debate, in contradistinction to that of Sir Robert Peel, is calculated to strengthen the latter impression. A little time, however, will decide the question. The rent is expected this week to reach the enormous sum of £3000.

Mallow, was, on Sunday, the scene of the next demonstration, at which 400,000 persons are said to have been present. Large bodies of troops and police were stationed in the neighborhood. The enormous multitude paraded the town in procession, and then proceeded to an open space where Mr. O'Connell delivered an address. Mr. O'Connell dwelt much on Sir Robert Peel's assertion that the Irish were aliens in blood, language and religion. When he had heard them say that they were aliens in language, he replied that, talking the same language, the Saxon spoke it with a hissing, croaking tone, whilst the Irish spoke it out fully from the heart, and gave the significance of cordiality in the words they utter.

The Derry Standard says the Government are watching the materials for prosecuting Mr. O'Connell for high treason.

The latest news from Spain, show that the embarrassments of the Regent are increasing. Nearly the whole of Catalonia is in arms against him, and a considerable portion of the troops sent to quell the revolt have abandoned his cause, and sided with the movement. The whole of the garrison of Barcelona has declared against Espartero, and the same may be said of the garrison of Tarragona. In Valencia, the Governor was killed in an affray, and his body dragged through the streets; and the constituted authorities are hors de combat.

Rumors reached Paris at the end of the week that Espartero and the young Queen of Spain had fled from the capital. The French Government is accused of withholding the news from Spain for purposes of its own. There was no truth in the statement, though it is evident that the position of Espartero is still critical. Nothing worthy of note had occurred in France.

SIMPLICITY OF DIET.—It was an observation of Dr. Hunter, that most people lived above par, and this circumstance rendered the generality of diseases and accidents more difficult of cure. A celebrated physician inquiring of a person who was remarkable for the health he enjoyed at an advanced period of his life, what regimen he followed, was answered, "I make one meal a day. Keep your secret; if you publish it to the world you will utterly ruin the practice of medicine."

The following is pretty fair: "Legislative Assembly—A circus, where each of the performers rides his own hobby, and takes his turn at playing the clown."

of the Legislature instructing our Senators and Representatives in Congress to ask of the General Government a donation of the inundated lands between the Mississippi and the Yazoo, Tallahatchie, Yalobusha, and Cold Water rivers, on condition that the State shall build a levee on the Mississippi, and thereby reclaim the lands. This is of the greatest importance to the State, and we were pleased to see no opposition in either branch of the Legislature. Those lands will enable the State to build the levee, and by proper management to pay all of her debts without a resort to an increased Tax.—Southron.

Yellow Fever.

The New Orleans Courier of the 10th notices the death of a man in that city from yellow fever. The Tropic in speaking of the matter says: "We may soon expect to hear of the doings of yellow Jack amongst us, but there is yet no cause of alarm. Prudence in clothing and diet, and abstinence from the use of ardent spirits are the most effective preventatives—safe guards which none should neglect."—Vicks. Whig.

Counterfeit.

We were shown a few days since a counterfeit $5 bill on the State Bank of Indiana, purporting to be from the Richmond Branch. The public have been cautioned of these bills heretofore, but as it appears some of them are afloat in this section we think it advisable to caution them again. The counterfeit is very well executed with a single exception, viz: a ship is placed in the bill which is in none of the genuine plates. The filling up and the signatures are good, and the bill at a glance is well calculated to deceive. This rule will do to judge them by—take none with a ship on the upper margin.—Indiana Blade.

One thousand six hundred and ninety-three passengers from foreign ports, arrived at the Quarantine ground, N. York on the 4th inst., nearly the whole of whom were from Liverpool.

By a late act of Congress, the widow of David Williams, one of the captors of Major Andre, who resides in the town of Broome, in this county, received about $2,000. She is to receive $200 a year, commencing at the time of her husband's death, and the $2,000 was the amount due at the time the money was drawn.—Schoharie Repub.

A CHANGE OF FORTUNE.—The Providence Chronicle states that the Hon. Nathaniel B. Borden, late member of Congress for the Fall River District, who resides in that village, was on Sunday morning worth $75,000. He is now penniless! Truly do riches "take to themselves wings and fly away." Mr. Borden's property, which was nearly all in one spot, was completely destroyed in a recent fire, not having a dollar of insurance upon it.

A Dreadful Outrage in Missouri.—A most disgraceful outrage recently occurred in Farmington, Missouri. The St. Louis Democrat states that James Layton had been convicted a few months ago, of an aggravated murder committed upon his wife, two and a half years since, and Saturday week, was the appointed day for his execution. He had obtained from the Governor a respite till the first of September. But this fact was not generally known, and the people to the number of 3000, assembled to witness the execution at the appointed time. An impression was somehow ergated, that justice would be cheated of its dues, and the people decided almost unanimously, that justice should at once be satisfied, at the expense of legal forms. They burst open the prison doors—took out the guilty man—erected a gallows—deliberately hanged him, and then peaceably dispersed.

Population of Cincinnati.—Number of white males in the City of Cincinnati, May 1st, 1843, over the age of 21, 10,432. Ratio of white males to population 1 to 64, (according to Auditor of State's calculation) which would give as the population of the city, 1st May, 1843, 67,808. White males over 21 years of age in Hamilton county, May 1st, 1843, 18,160. Whole population of the county, 118,040. Cin. Gazette.

FATAL ENCOUNTER.—An affray took place on the 10th inst., in Bloomfield, Stoddard county, Missouri, between Dr. Chapman and Mr. Daniel Stanford, of that place in which the former was killed and the latter severely wounded. The weapons used were knives or dirks.—Lou. Jour.

S. Walker, of Elizabeth, has contracted to build the longest steamer ever built in the West.—Cin. Gaz.

ers of the battle, are shortly to be over and settle in the United States. It is a religious movement—these people preferring the good old orthodox doctrines to the modern philosophy of Berlin. There are men of very large fortunes among them: old German noblemen whose pedigrees date back to the thirteenth century. They will make excellent Western Farmers, and are about to settle in Wisconsin.—Cleveland Herald.

Navvoo.

The editor of the Cayahoga Falls True American says he conversed with a gentleman a day or two since, who had lately visited the Mormon Prophet, who states that there are now at Navvoo, congregated from all parts of the world 17 or 18,000 souls—in a miserable, wretched condition, subject to the order of Smith. While hundreds become dissatisfied with the represented promised land, and leave for a better "heritage," their places are filling up by fresh converts to a wicked system of delusion.—The great temple estimated to cost half a million of dollars, has advanced about 14 feet in its walls.

We have never yet, says the N. York Aurora, heard a man regret signing the pledge—we have never yet seen a wife cry because her husband became a Washingtonian—and we have yet to see the sober man and the swine taking lodgings together in the gutter.

SNOW DRIFT.—The Dover Gazette of the 10th inst. says, there is now a snow-drift in the town of Stafford, N. H. which on the first day of June was measured, and found to be three feet five inches deep, from three to four rods long and about two rods wide.

HAIR OIL.—A Missouri editor tells of a bottle of grease sent to him for a puff. He says he spilled a little of it on a lump of butter and the next morning found the aforesaid lump when he went to eat it, full of little hairs!

ESCAPE.—The Quincy (Illinois) Herald says that the jailor in charge of the prison in that town carelessly left the doors of their cells open, and permitted them to escape upon finding his strong halls deserted, he awoke the town with dire outcry and frantic yell, knocked down his own son in his excitement, and frightened a store-keeper, who was just opening his doors, into an ague fit.—When the jailor's fright wore off he offered a reward of $150 for their apprehension. The whole of the prisoners have been retaken.

A complete revolution in the trade in Cotton yarns has been effected in N. Carolina within a few years by the establishment of a number of factories in that State.

DIED.—On Friday morning last, Mr. YOUNG HARRIS, after a short but severe illness.
